Lots of children are doing really well with their reading hitting 25, 50, 75, 100, 125 and 150 nights. Well done and keep going!

Without wishing to tempt fate we seem to have had no floods this week which is a much better state of affairs! Lots of exciting things have happened throughout the week and the highlight for many will have been the fantastic science workshops that were postponed from last week. I know that the children really enjoyed this opportunity to see science in an explosive way! Thank you to Mrs Miles for organising this.

The Doves this week have continued to be immersed in Science. They have been busy investigating pollination by making bees and role-playing the pollination process. They have also been busy thinking about seasonal foods. The windowsills in Doves are full of sunflowers who are enjoying the Spring sunshine and trying to escape from their coloured light enclosures. The Doves have also been busy noticing kind deeds and building their class Lent kindness nest.

Wrens enjoyed acting out the story of Palm Sunday. They dressed up as a donkey and Jesus and our happy crowd enjoyed waving streamers and palm branches, playing instruments and shouting Hosanna! I could see this from my office window and it looked like so much fun!

Our Year 6 netball team went to Shaftesbury on Wednesday to play in a friendly tournament. They worked brilliantly as a team and I know Miss Short said they were a pleasure to take. Thank you to her for taking them and well done them for playing so confidently. I believe that everyone who was in position was able to score!

We end the week by taking part in Red Nose Day for comic relief. It has been so lovely to see all the children and staff dressed in red with crazy hair and painted on red noses! Thank you so much for all your donations.

We look ahead to welcoming you into the school for the parent teacher meetings, a great opportunity to catch up on the progress your children are making. I am aware that we have had quite a lot of illness through the school. I hope that everyone has the chance to recover this weekend and we look forward to seeing everyone on Monday.
